Cush for Your Tush

The Fatboy Buggle-up lounge bag may just be our new fave squeeze. Stand it upright and take a seat, let it flop and recline, or lay it flat and drift off to sleep on a 55- by 77-inch cloud of softness. Covered in a UV-, water- and stain-resistant polyester, the bag is ready to take on the great outdoors. Integrated straps make it easy to transport to the patio, pool or wherever an afternoon nap calls. $349; fatboyusa.com.

Stacks o' Fun

We totally dig the sexy chevron back detailing on this Domitalia ForYou2 dining chair, and we're absolute suckers for the ready-to-party colors—orange, lime, magenta and red. With a lightweight fiberglass polypropylene frame that's also stackable, this chair makes flexible entertaining easy-breezy. $144 each, sold in sets of four; inmod.com.

Laid-Back Moves

Think of the Loll Designs' Cabrio Lounge Chair as a simplified version of the Adirondack. It has all the right angles—a low-slung seat, a comfortably slanted back and wide, sloped armrests—delivered with a minimum of fuss so you can chill out in modern version of a timeless classic. Made from 100 percent recycled plastic. $395; dwr.com.

Sustainable Loafing

Put yourself on the fast track to relaxation with the de Luge sunbed by Loll Designs. Sun yourself on your back, then flip your footsies to the other end and roll onto your stomach for an even tan—no mechanical adjustments necessary. Need another reason to rest easy? The sunbed is made from 100 percent recycled plastic (primarily milk jugs), so it can live outside year-round, and never needs painting or staining. $670; [loll designs.com](http://loll designs.com).
